PROPOSED AMPERE RESOURCE

Academic Reflection Check-In

A short, strengths-oriented exercise for students whose responses do not meet either research-derived threshold.

1. What matters to me?

What is one academic goal or learning experience that matters to you right now?

2. What supports my learning?

What helps you feel engaged, motivated, or confident in your studies?

3. What gets in the way?

What challenges make academic progress harder, whether or not they involve perfectionism?

4. What could I try next?

What is one small, realistic step you could take this week?
